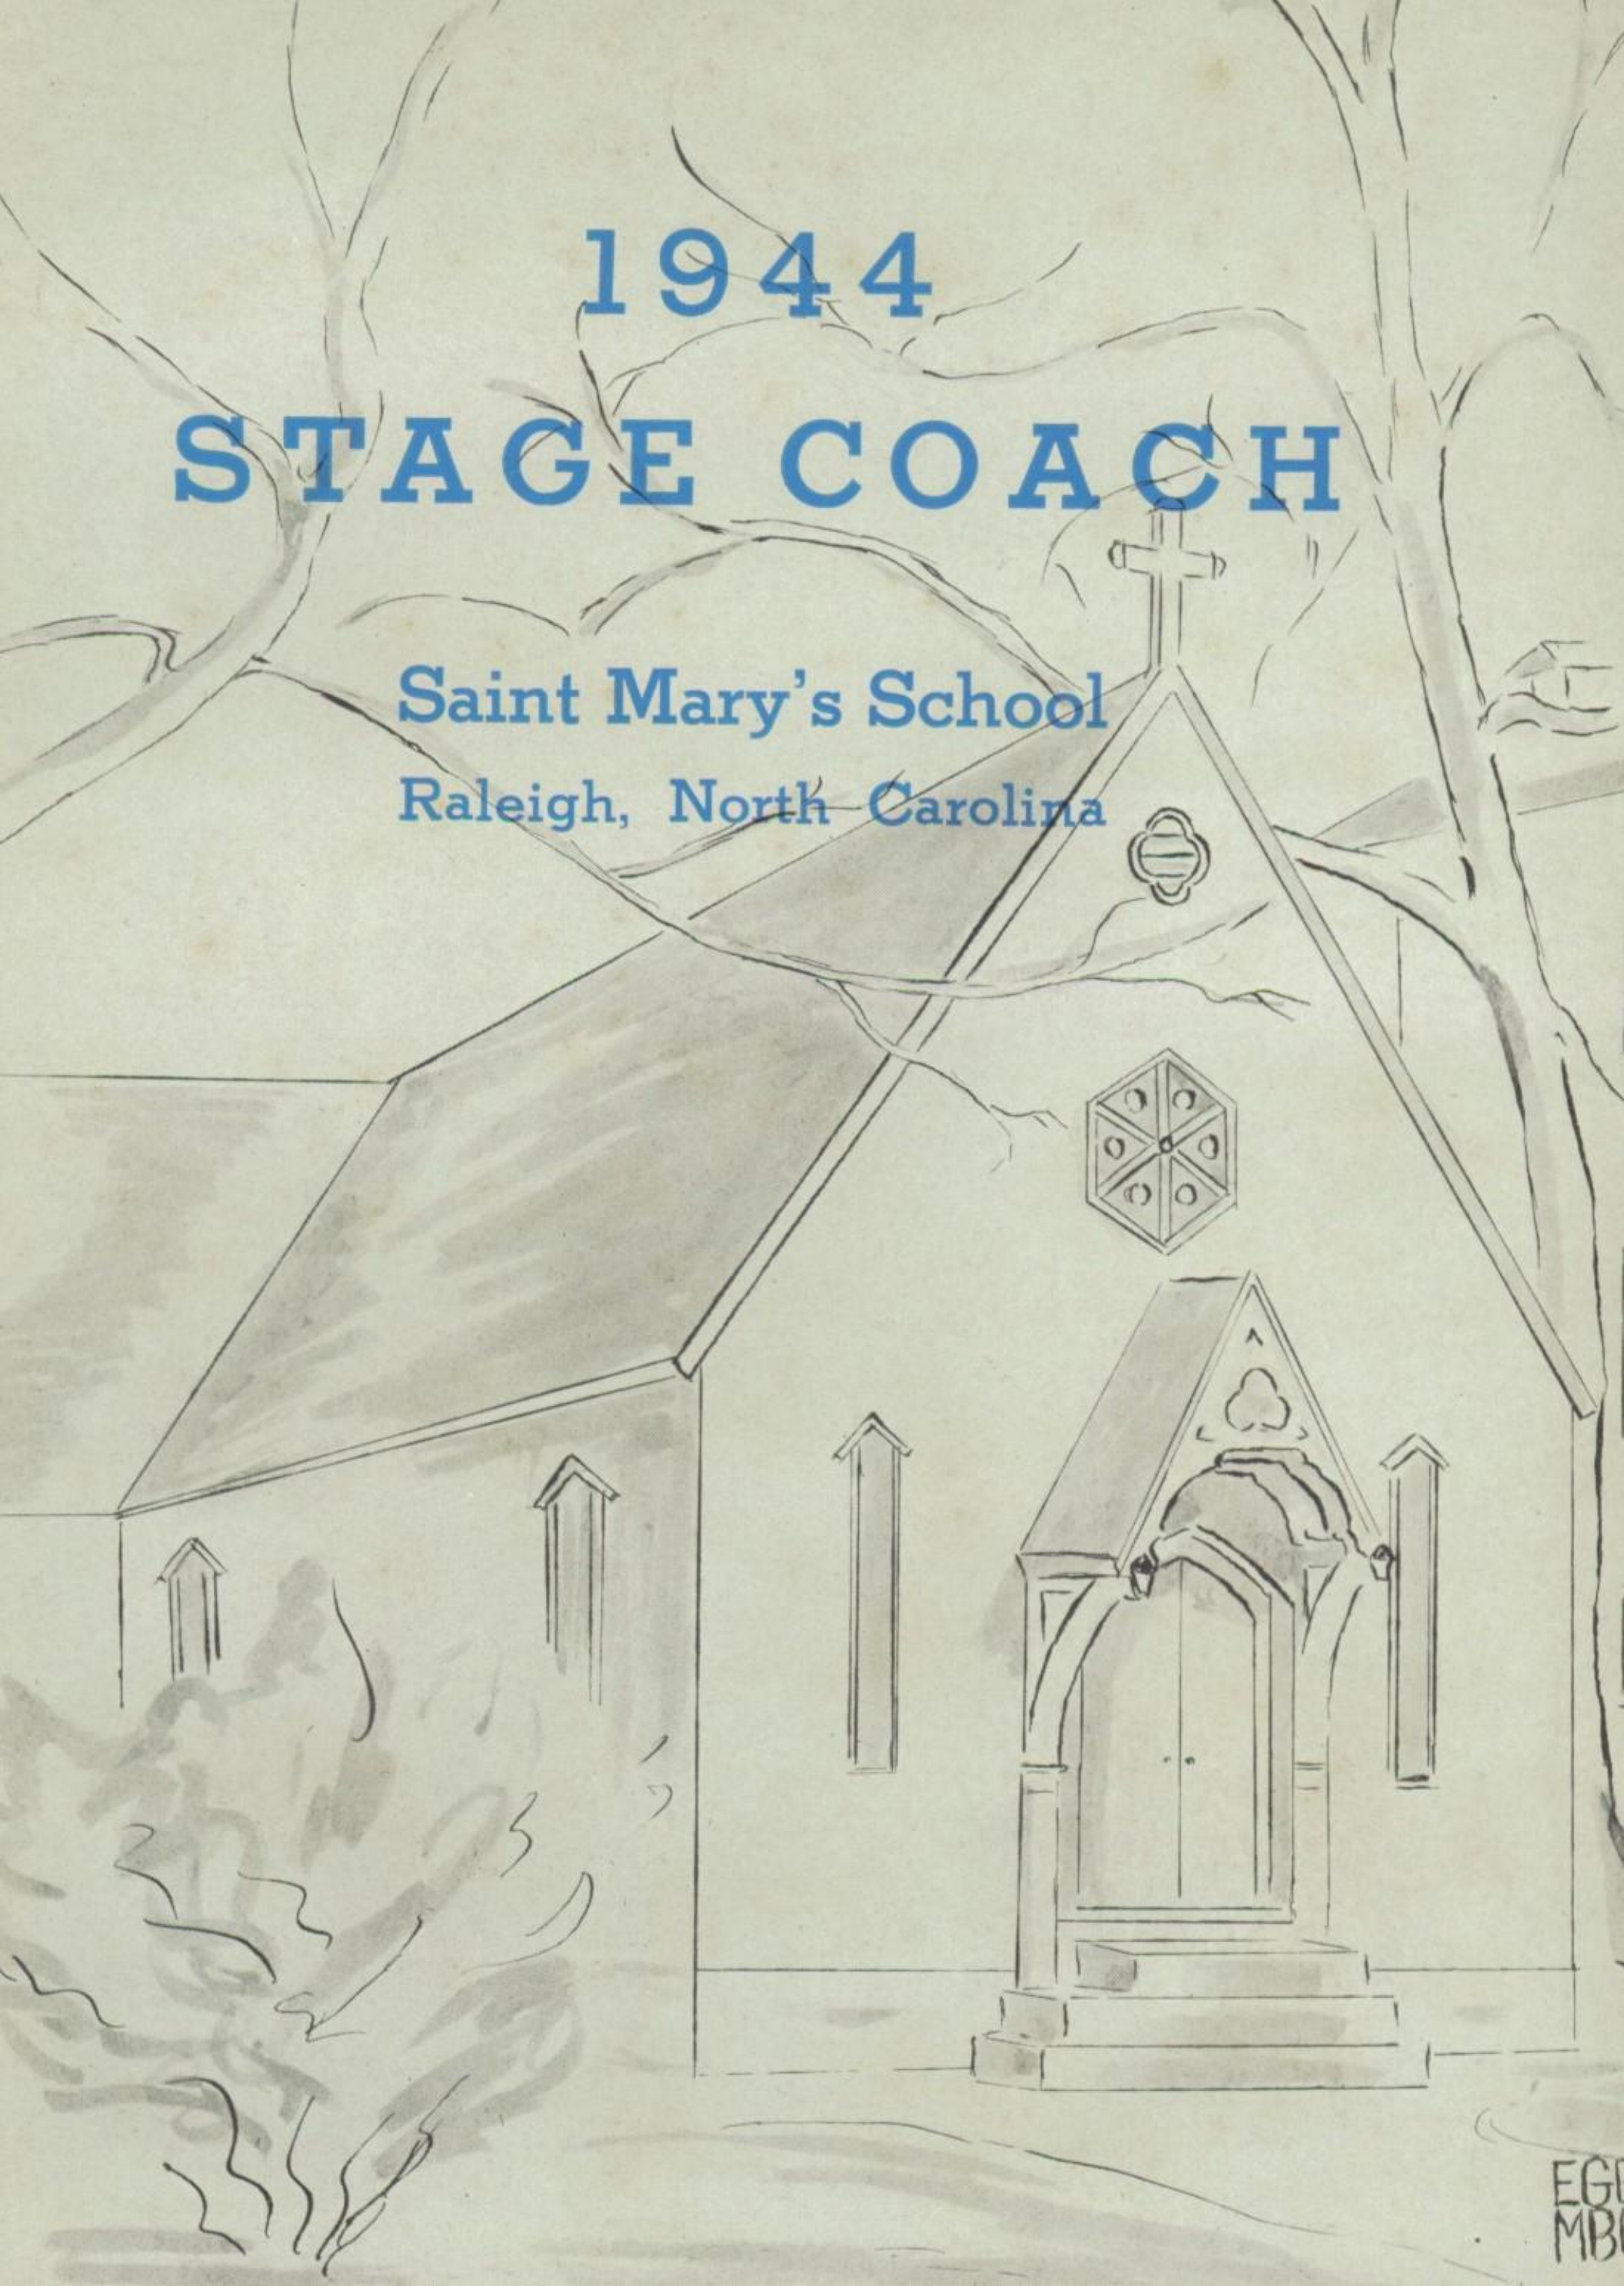
STAGE COACH

Saint Mary's School

Raleigh, North Carolina



TO YOU . . .

. . . we wish to present within these pages a record not only of things we have done but also of places we have loved. . . .

Places where we worshipped, where we studied, where we gathered to play or to discuss world, literary, and other affairs.

With your help we have compiled pictures and jotted down notes to preserve some memories of our last year at Saint Mary's. We hope you approve.

From us,

Adelaide Caldwell Butler, Editor

STUDENT GOVERNMENT OFFICERS

Betty Edwards, President, stands for all the qualities we wanted in a president. Of course we remember her never failing answers in class recitation, but her friendliness, versatility, and charm have meant even more to us. We shall always remember a fine, well-rounded person who was a friend as well as leader to us all.

Sally Ramsey, Vice President, whose sense of humor, personality, and originality immediately impressed the new students, effectively put across new and progressive ideas in orientation classes and constitution committee meetings.

Mary Arden Tucker, Secretary of the Student Government Association, has set a new mark in accuracy and coöperation while keeping records for Honor Council meetings and other Student Government activities.

Virginia Hart, Chairman of the Hall Council, has proved to be as lovely and likable as she is diplomatic. In her easy manner she has directed the Hall Council with efficiency and understanding.

Agatha Chipley, President of the Day Students, has more than adequately filled the requirements for a good president. By her own excellent example of enthusiasm and leadership, she has encouraged more day students to take an increasing part in activities at Saint Mary's.

THE HONOR COUNCIL

A carefully chosen group of capable leaders whose job is not always enviable, the Honor Council exercises more authority than any other student organization at Saint Mary's. The Student Government officers and class representatives who make up the Council acquire impartiality and a sense of values as they consider serious violations of Student Government policies. Throughout the year these girls by their thoughtfulness and good judgment have set an example for every student in school.

THE HALL COUNCIL

Monday night meetings, order on the halls, points, and petitions all go together to make the life of a Hall Council member exacting at all times. Composed of hall presidents, a chairman, a faculty adviser, and the President of the Student Body, the Council works as a group as well as individually to regulate life on the halls and to discuss problems of daily routine as they arise.

THE LEGISLATIVE BODY

The Legislative Body, composed of Student Government officers, faculty and class representatives, and the Handbook editor, considers petitions originated by the students and revisions in the Constitution. Whatever the petitions concern, this group carefully weighs their merits and decides on their value to the school. Anxious for progressive and beneficial measures, each year the Legislative Body grants new privileges and adopts, new, improved ideas for the Student Government Association.

CLASSES

SENIORS

These Seniors, like those before them, have carried on the traditions of every graduating class. They were there to greet the new girls in the fall and, as big sisters, to help them over the first days. They were there to teach the Handbook groups; to advise on studies and exams; to congratulate the new officers in the spring. They were everywhere a guiding hand was needed. But these Seniors had lighter moments too. Their voices issued from Holt as they gathered in the parlor for meetings and "bull-sessions." Their faces glowed with happiness the morning of Christmas vacation as they serenaded the student body. Their feverish excitement over the Senior dance, and their relief over being "guests" at the Junior-Senior show them to be as gay and fun loving as any group of girls.

Throughout the year—leaders and friends—they played a major roll in the school life of every Saint Mary's girl.

JUNIORS

The girls of the Junior Class—so fresh from high school and, in many cases, totally inexperienced in the ways of student government—have adapted themselves remarkably well to college life. They are ready and able to become next year's leaders not only of student government but also of every organization in school. Already they have a large representation in the Circle, the literary societies, the publications staff, not to mention the various clubs. They are on their way.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

Shall we ever forget Frenchie's bi-monthly editions of our "half-pint journal," our beloved Belles? Humor and fact turned out in "saintly" style, written about us and for us. And Freshman Janie—in years to come many giggles will still be rising from her column . . . four-sheeted retrospect of our year, thanks to Frenchie McCann and Staff.

Literary bugs flutter and scribble, lurch in originality and hustle together—ergo, our quarterly issues of the Bulletin. Patty Weaver edits with gusto, conscripting material and compiling alumnae notes.

"When earth's last picture is painted . . ." the Art Staff says it will still be trying to please the Editor—and CAP!

"Don't forget your picture appointment—and have you any snaps we could use?"

But all in fun in creating the Stage Coach, says editor Pinkie. Jane Clark's headaches with advertisements; blues with lack of snaps; but success on Class Day—(well, we hope it comes out!)

Our three publications, by turn aggressive, literary, and graphic, the Belles, the Bulletin and the Stage Coach, thoroughly developing and personifying our school's spirit and our own entwined within, are very bright spots in our lives.

E.A.P.'s

FRENCH CLUB

Marionette shows, skits, songs, and discussions entirely in French are enjoyed bi-monthly by the FRENCH CLUB ably directed by Mademoiselle Margaret Winslow and Madam Smith. The mimeographed newspaper reads well.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN

The Deutscher Verein is formed to discuss German literature and pre-war culture. Mary Hodges Person is president.

DOCTORS' DAUGHTERS' CLUB

All doctors' daughters' form an organization here that we remember as being particularly worthwhile at this time. They not only study home hursing under Mrs. Naylor, but also raise contributions for local and Chinese relief.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

This year especially Social Science students have appreciated Mr. Guess' generous assistance in helping them with their efforts to untangle and understand our Government's complicated political economy. The president—Johnson.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club comes through, as always, with the entertainment that adds so much to our school year. Remember their sparkling presentations of "Junior Miss" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream"? We do, and thank you, Miss Davis, "Cacie," and other officers, for your hard work behind the scenes as well as on the stage.

THE GRANDDAUGHTERS' CLUB

These girls, whose mothers or grandmothers set a precedent for them, edited our Address Book at Christmas time, contributed to the USO, and, by sponsoring a magazine subscription drive, raised money to send cigarettes to our soldiers overseas. A fine record, in our estimation.

Glee Club

The Glee Club, under the guiding hands of Miss Cate, Director, and Patsy Rodgers, President, presented two delightful concerts for our enjoyment. We have memories of beautiful voices—and beautiful girls.

Sextette

Take one look and you will agree that they must have built up many a soldier's morale down at the USO. They also sang for various Raleigh civic clubs as well as for us in Assembly. They are good.

Orchestra

. . . a group of girls, musically inclined, whose delightful programs and accompaniments mean more to us each year. All due credit goes to Mrs. Edgar Alden, who organizes and directs them.

The Canterbury Club Council

Study, worship, fellowship, and service are the basic rules of a club that seeks to present religious subjects to us in a way we like and understand—remember the Marriage Ceremony as explained by Mr. Gribbin? On the side they rolled innumerable bandages for the Red Cross besides conducting an every-man canvass for money to be donated to the Thompson Orphanage.

CHOIR

Choirmaster Broughton drives and drives, and then how the angels sing!

Altar Guild

The Seniors floundered among pauls, Chalice veils, purificators, and other previously unknown articles, but Miss Bason saved the day and we shall always remember the lovely results.

The Christmas Pageant

The Christmas Pageant, an impressive spectacle. Seniors, remember those beards?

ATHLETICS

COUNCI

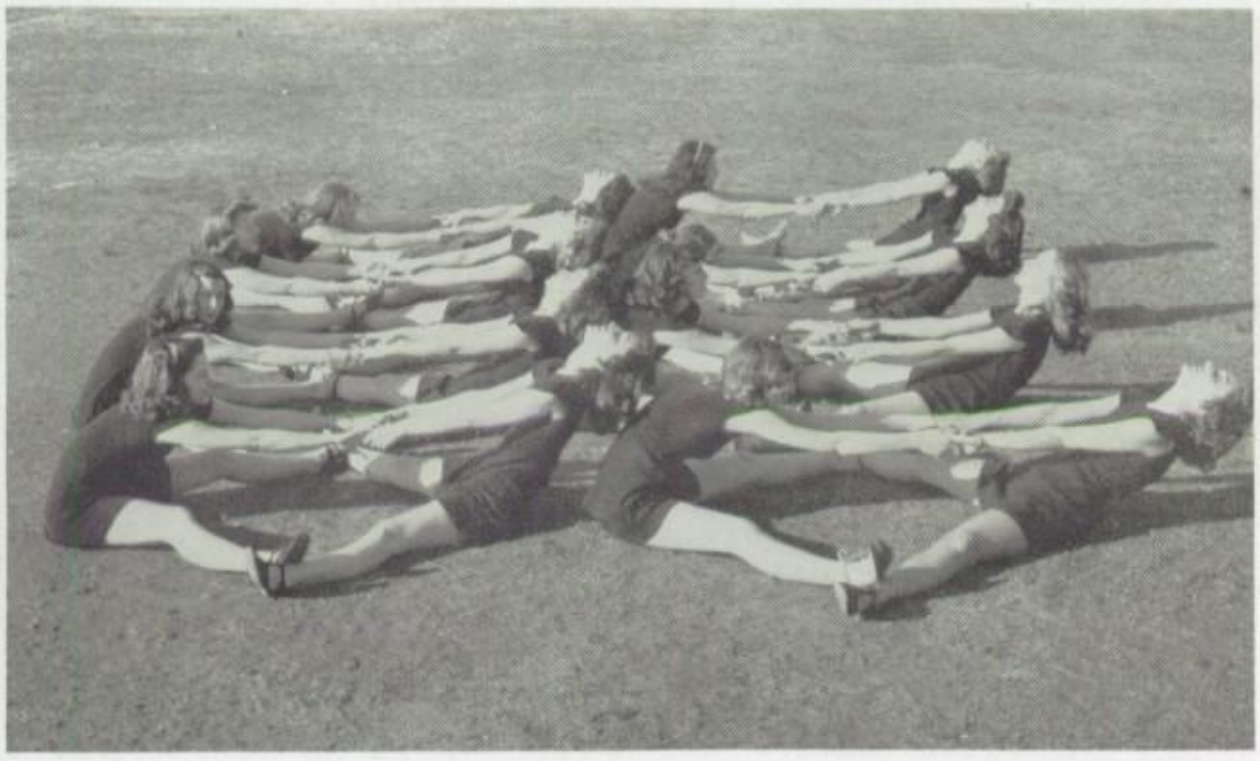
Bettering the health of the student is one of Saint Mary's more important contributions to the war effort. Again this year the athletic program has emphasized physical fitness as recommended by the Federal Security Agency of the U. S. Office of Education. The objectives of the program have been to develop endurance, strength, discipline, flexibility, coördination, relaxation, and body control.

To lead in the competitive spirit of the traditional Sigma Mu activities, which begin with the Sigma Mu party in the fall and end with the athletic banquet in the spring, Sigma's chose as cheer leaders Sally Ramsey, Fannie Cooper, Barnie White, Frances Avera, and Delight Nuchols. The Mu's chose Sybil Goerch, Foxie Clarke, Nancy Urner, Frankie Shamburger, and Betty Baer. Among our fondest memories of these girls as they gyrated before us are flashes of technicolor hair and strains of a Kentucky yodel.

With self-expression and artistic appreciation as prime objectives, the Orchesis organized in the late fall with 17 members. The chief project this year was satire on military drill composed by the members. And the auction sale which raised nearly $17 for the USO.

LETTER
CLUB

In the spring Orchesis selected the six best dancers in their group to be awarded monograms. They were: Senay, Riddle, Edmunds, Long, B., Cooper, F., and Carr. These six with several others took the parts of fairies in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and presented their satirical dance on military drill in Assembly for us.



Orchesis in action . . .

"Make it long and make it loud!"

SPORTS

KICKBALL was the first sport of the year. Sigma's came out on top after winning two games and tieing a third. The all star team, including six Mu's and four Sigma's: Bunn, Leitner, Clarke, Whitaker, Grantham, Dysart, R. Moore, H. Williams, F. L. Brooke, and Hirst. Ruth Hayes was a competent manager.

HOCKEY came next with the Sigma's still on top. Because of cold weather and vacations the final tournament game was not played until February. Selected all stars were: Hirst, Bass, Brooke, F. L., Smutney, Williams, Woodson, Cooper, F., and Talbot. Again two games were won and one tied. Anna Margaret Moomaw was the Manager.

BASKETBALL began after Christmas and as usual found much enthusiasm among the seniors, juniors, and underclassmen alike. More girls went out for this sport than for any other. Highlight of the season was the unforgettable trip to Chapel Hill. The tournament consisted of mixed teams made up of girls from Carolina, Duke, Woman's College (W. C. to you), Meredith, and Saint Mary's. Proudly Saint Mary's, the only junior college represented, came away with first place honors. Mu's won two games out of three. The all stars were: Williams, H., Legg, K., Brooke, F. L., Grantham, Banks, White, B., Hirst, Street, and Rylander.

SWIMMING those necessary five-hours—a semester-or-else demanded some of everybody's time, but quite a few risked looking water-soaked at dinner on Monday's and Wednesday's to earn a letter for life saving. Who knows, maybe you will be saved by a Saint Mary's girl next summer at the beach! The girls you should scream to for help are: Pou, Winslow, B., Williams, H., Hunsucker, Gregory, Bell, J. D., Baskervill, Moore, R., Morris, J., Chipley, Goerch, Wade, Lane, Martin, M., Smith, M., and Robinson. Sara Stockton was swimmng instructor.

PING PONG was the most successful minor sport this year with Barnie White the champ and Anna Margaret Moomaw the runner up. And incidentally, the faculty took up ping pong avidly.

VOLLEY BALL came in April. A large number of girls came out for it, especially the underclassmen. The Sigma's won the exciting tournament. These earning stars were: Hirst, White, B., Clarke, M. F., Brooke, F. L., Peoples, Everett, Smutney, and Anderson, A.

SOFTBALL and TENNIS followed with much enthusiasm on all sides. The tournaments were scheduled for late April and early May. Sorry we couldn't wait for results, but we must go to press, you know!

In Class

In the regular bi-weekly gym classes, exercises of all types were undertaken along with customary dance and game instructions. In the flexibility, tumbling, and Indian club routines we discovered muscles we never before knew we had! Saint Mary's obstacle course proved novel as well as beneficial to the girls. Skimming along the balance beam and leaping over the leather buck, Brent Woodson completed the course in record-breaking time with Mary Lynn Lewis a close second.

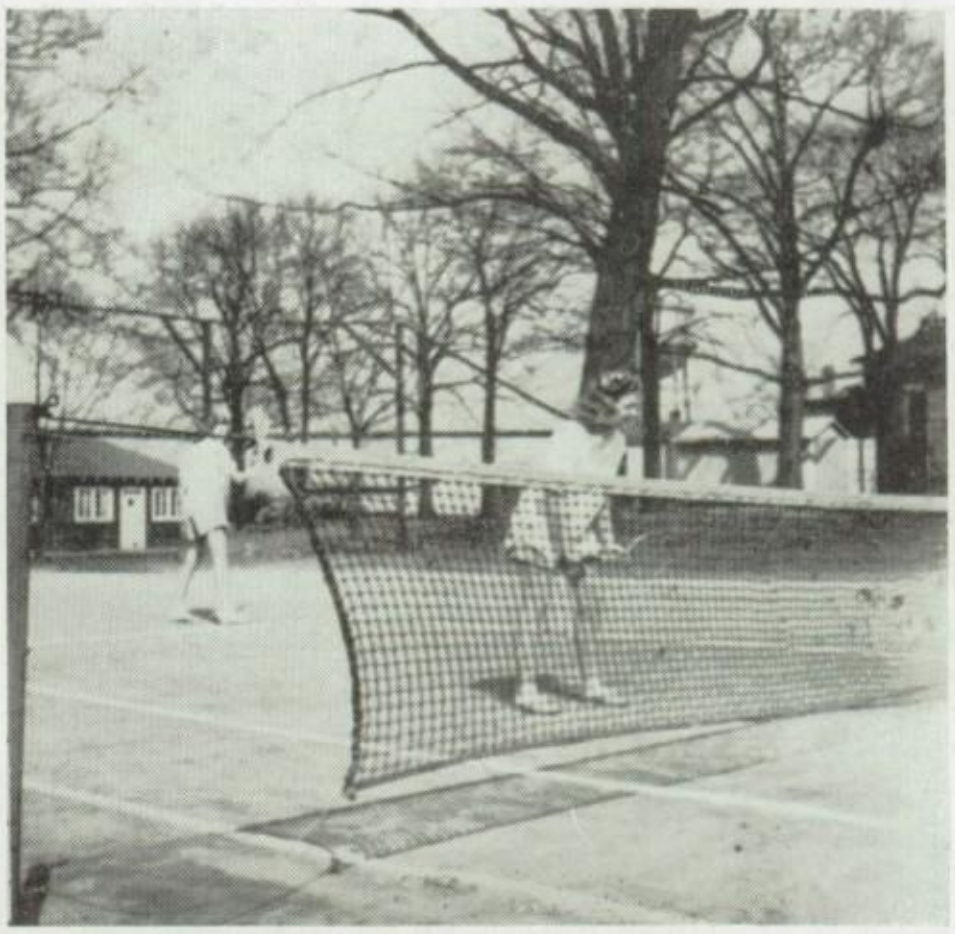
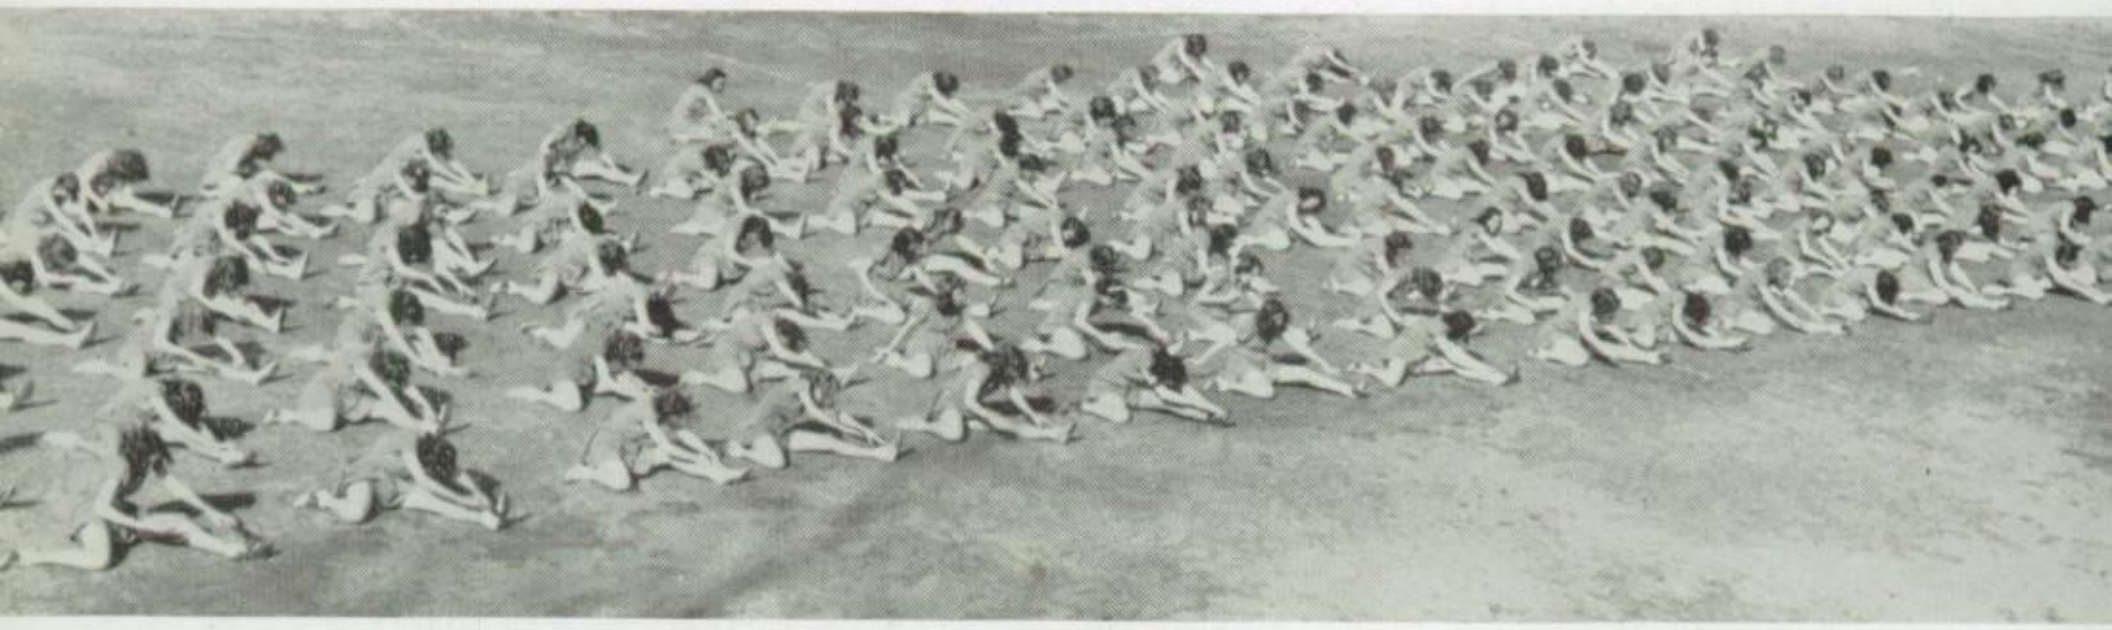
MARY TOM GILMAN



. . . And Other Things

The Letter Club, made up of girls elected to two all-star teams in major sports, sponsored Playday and Posture Week. Besides Saint Mary's girls the participants in Play Day were girls from Meredith and Peace. Sports included on the program were: swimming, kickball, and basketball. Letter Club members acted as Posture policemen during Posture Week—with all the customary tags, checks, and eagle eyes. The student body heartily agreed with the judges in their selection of Mary Tom Gilman as Posture Queen. Runners-up in the contest were Jane Peete, second place; and Charlotte Crawford, third place. President of the Letter Club is Ruth Moore. Who thinks up those fantastic initiation costumes, anyway?



MILITARY DRILL

In the early fall, Wednesday meant play day to the new girls. This included a wide choice of activities: skating, swimming, hiking, softball, riding, and bowling. To the old girls Wednesday was a day of interesting seriousness. Officers' Candidate Corps (O.C.C.) was organized under the direction of Lt. Arthur L. Kaltenborn and Mrs. William C. Guess. Divided into squads the girls practiced the old and learned the new. Squad leaders were selected. Helena Williams, Adelaide Butler, Charlotte Crawford, Lib Shaw, Jean Brooks, Katherine Legg, Mary Fox Clarke, Betsy Long, Betsy Thompson, Frances Rylander, and Betsy Blount drilled their groups well. The climax came in December with the drill contest. Eleven old girl and six new girl squads competed. The squads led by Helena and Foxie were chosen best of the old groups and that of Private Thomas Morgan best of the new groups.

Military drill continued throughout the year. Adelaide Butler was chosen Company Commander. Gradually all the new girls were initiated into the discipline of military drill. The original squad leaders worked hard with the new girls and some of the old. The boys from the ASTP-ROTC unit from State College certainly put life into the Wednesday activities—and who will ever forget the caustic wit of Lieutenant Kaltenborn (or the hours we stood and waited while that Man took pictures).

DANCE MARSHALS

These are the girls to thank for our monthly "girl-breaks" and the smooth way in which our big "formals" were conducted. They not only circulated among the dancers with introductions, but they also kept the door, sold "cokes," served as hostesses in the parlour, and—well, they've just done a fine job, even including handling the boys.

Dear Sue,

You're cute and wonderful, too. Nancy Brittain and I didn't mean to keep you from studying, but you need to study anyway.

I love you, even when you're a moron.

Write me. Come to see me. Love ya,

Bobbie.

Sue, dearest! I can just see us going to raise the old time publications, pictures, editorials, C.A.P.N. and world lit. But I'm still looking forward to next year — love ever, Harve

Sue – I never did get to know you very well – but I do know you're grand – you'll make this a good week next year too – Best of luck 'n' stuff sister smith

Dear Sue,

Being a moron, I can't write flowery speech, but I can say that I've enjoyed knowing you this year. For goodness sakes, be good and don't play moronski on too many people. Don't forget the West Rock quartette swinging out on "Silent Night;" brother, were we good??????? Just keep on smilin' that sweet old smile!!

Bunny hugs,

Dear Sue,

There are loads and loads of things I want to write to you - about every single moment [even the "fussy" ones] we've been together this year - I only wish there'd been more - and next year there'll have to be! - but see those loads of things will have to wait until I've got more [even more!] space - until I write you lots of letters this summer - to which I shall be looking forward to loads of laughter filled answers - but, Sue,

P.S. Do you remember the time you were going to let me write in your annual and somebody used up the space so I had to condense my wordiness to - I love you very much.

Dear Sue,

You're a wonderful girl and I do have enjoyed living across the hall from you. We've had some grand old maranic times together. Be sure and have a swell summer so you'll be able to last out year. I want you to come down to see me real soon. Write. The best of everything to you.

Loads of love,
Margaret.

Dear Sue -

I can't tell you how much I've enjoyed knowing you and also what a perfectly wonderful girl I think you are. You've really got the things that count - one of them being "understanding-ness".

Really Sue - I'll never forget you or any of your wonderful traits that I admire so much. I'll always remember you - try to remember me - and so, here's to the best of everything.

Love to you always -

Mary

Dearest Sue,

You're one of the most wonderful girls I've ever known. You deserve the best that life has to offer you - I know you'll get it.

Have a big time this summer and don't slay those people in New York with your wonderful talent - you know these Yankees.

Best luck and love,

Jane [the Pete]

Dear Sue,

I had half your ability.

Dear Susie,

What a year this has been! More power to us.

It's been wonderful for me to know you - You've helped a lot and I'll never forget it. Take it easy and please remember me -

Love always,

Sallie, "the" Jerry

I love my wife - but oh you kid!

Dear Sue,

You know how much I think of you and I always will. I hope to see a lot of you in W-S. We'll have fun this summer.

Love + kisses.

Mary.
